

The Book Club

Level: B1 Topic: Reading and Community

Tom recently joined a book club in his neighborhood. He loves reading and wanted to meet new people. The club meets every Thursday evening at a local café. Each week, they choose a different book to discuss. This week, they are reading a mystery novel that Tom is excited about. He enjoys trying to guess the ending before finishing the book. Last week, they discussed a romance novel, and everyone had different opinions about the characters. Tom likes how the club encourages everyone to share their thoughts. It helps him see books from different perspectives. He has made new friends and looks forward to the meetings. The café has a cozy atmosphere, which makes it a great place to relax and talk about books. Tom believes that being part of the book club has improved his reading skills, as he reads more regularly now. He is grateful for the experience and plans to continue attending the meetings for a long time.
