

Weekend Shopping

Level: B1 Topic: Shopping and Services

On weekends, many people like to go shopping. John loves to visit the local market every Saturday. He enjoys looking at fresh fruits and vegetables. The market is lively, with vendors calling out their prices and customers chatting. John usually buys apples, bananas, and some vegetables for the week. After finishing his shopping, he often visits a small café nearby for a cup of coffee. He likes to sit outside, watching people pass by. Sometimes, he meets his friends there, and they talk about their week. On Sundays, John prefers to relax at home and cook meals with the ingredients he bought. Shopping is not just about buying things; it's also a chance to enjoy the community and connect with others.
